

OPEN GOLF AMERICA at OGATOUR.org

Why Is OGATOUR.org?

Aspiring golfers, especially those who cannot claim amateur status or PGA association, need frequent accessible competition where the top performers can receive cash awards to help defray the costs of development. The top performers should be compensated for "setting the bar" for the lesser skilled players. Tournaments scores along with other results such as swing videos, should be well publicized via the new media. Higher levels of play open only to the qualified players with no exemptions should offer higher levels of compensation to the top performers. The players need a more accessible system which develops, rewards, and advances excellent tour golfers.
